

TV HOSTS WANTED

Calling all females involved in computer science, engineering, electronics or technology!

Also looking for a MALE on-air reporter/interview

Men TV (Sun Media) has teamed up with Positive Living Productions as they prepare to launch their new primetime, technology based lifestyle television series.

The show aims to educate viewers on the latest "gadgets" and technological advances set to break loose on the consumer market, and promises to wow and impress the audience with the world of modern technology. The series will launch on MEN TV in March of 2010 and the Producers are on the hunt for charismatic, well-spoken and educated women to compete for the coveted roles as lead hosts of the series. Hosting this new show will be a groundbreaking opportunity for a woman who is educated in the male dominated fields of electronics, computer science or engineering. These ladies will be Canada's credible source on the latest information regarding gadgets, technological innovations, computers and inventions that seek to break industry standards and provide consumers with new experiences!

So what do you need to do to become the next it-girl of the technology world? The producers are looking for ambitious, intelligent women who are confident, well spoken, attractive and into the latest consumer industry trends. All applicants are required to have successfully obtained a degree/diploma in a tech related field of study (such as computer science, engineering, information technology, science & technology studies, electronic design, internet technologies, network systems technology or computer programming). We will also be looking for a male reporter with the same educational background.

If you are looking to boost your technology based career and you think you have what it takes to be one of Canada's leading on-air female tech experts, submit a short one page bio letter indicating why YOU are the perfect woman to host this exciting new tech based television series.

Please send a half page bio / letter indicating why you think you are the perfect candidate for this position, and be sure and list your degree! We thank all of those who apply, only those selected for an interview will be contacted. Please contact us at:
